

Pneumatic Thermostat and Humidistat Cover Kit

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

GENERAL

1. Determine whether thermostat is mounted vertically or horizontally.
2. Determine whether cover requires a setpoint and thermometer window or a blank window.
3. Select the appropriate window insert (Fig. 1).
4. Determine if a Setpoint Cover Insert is required. Generally, if the window is blank, the Setpoint Cover Insert is required.
5. Follow the instructions in Installation Section to assemble and mount the cover.

NOTE: Window Markings vary by kit number

ASSEMBLY

1. Remove the caution card from the cover.
2. Peel the release liner from selected window back

To prevent damage to the window, carefully check the window selection and orientation before installing the window. Once assembled, disassembly may damage the window.

3. Ensure that the window is oriented correctly for the assembly. When viewed from the front of the cover, the setpoint and day/auto openings are on the bottom for a vertical cover or on the right for a horizontal cover. The cover has slots which must mate with the mounting ears on the backplate.

- a. Insert the top edge of the window (Fig. 2) into the slot in the top of the window hole
- b. Bend the window slightly and pop the bottom edge into the slot in the bottom of the window hole.
- c. Press in place to secure window.
